If you are ever curious about what the Digit gang is up to, this is the place to get all the inside info. From the latest game we're obsessing about to the newest intern we're driving up the wall – it's all here folks.

Death beckons those who dare set foot within the Test Labs. Slumbering and gaining strength in the darkness, it silently waits. You never know when and from where it'll strike you but one thing is for certain, you WILL BE STRUCK! Each attack constitutes a vitriolic assemblage of acidic sputum, viral missiles and noxious fumes that can make your eyes tear up. These attacks come in various forms, sometimes it's an "achoo" or it could be a feeble "tishoo", the worst is the two-stage attack that's characterised by a deep throaty gurgle wherein phlegm ammo is loaded followed by the launch via a gut-wrenching "aaargh-thoooo". Few from among those who were brave enough to sit amongst the sick have emerged without any PTSD. Everyone, absolutely everyone fell sick this month and the cyclic re-infection only made things worse. It's been nearly a month since the disastrous infection started and we're yet to recover from the petrifying plague of November 2019.

To make matters worse, the air conditioners in the office randomly started giving out. We don't know if the denizens of the Test Labs had actually managed to infect the ACs as well but the inconvenience that we had to bear was a tad much. The AC repairman now dreads having to enter the Test Labs owing to all the nasty stares he gets from everyone.

Gaming has been on the downlow this month. Aditya is back playing Warframe, while Manish spent a week with NFS Heat because it reminded him of that one summer in his childhood when NFS Underground II had launched. Mithun's been rather enamoured with Diablo ever since the new trailer for Diablo 4 came out and he's been playing that ever since. Dhriti, however, seems to have given up on gaming altogether after the Minecraft frenzy. She spent a few hours playing the tutorial of WarCraft III and decided to quit even before finishing it. For her crimes, she has been branded a "Filthy Casual".

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

"Atchoo"
- Everyone

November is the month for Zero1 or as some folks at the Test Labs call it, the month of "aty-achaar and achaar".

It's not that the folks here at the test labs hate their job, but the last minute changes and product considerations can really eat you up from the inside. Add the nasty sickness that spread through the office in November and you've got a recipe for a perfectly-concocted disaster. If you're reading this, then the folks did manage to persevere through it all and make it through. Next up is 2020, let's see what that holds for us.
