WARRIOR SEASON 2

From the guys who worked on the excellent Banshee, comes Warrior. Based on the writings and teachings of Bruce Lee, Warrior follows the path of a young Chinese man who has travelled to San Francisco in the 1920s to look for his missing sister. Cue the excellent fights, deep story and very compelling characters. This show offers up a feast of diversity without being overbearing. The first season is streaming on Disney+Hotstar so do yourself a favour and check it out.

THE BOYS SEASON 2

Originally written by Garth Ennis, The Boys is not your regular, run-of-the-mill superhero show. It's so much more than that as it looks at superheroes as corporate entities who aren't the noble and humble heroes we're used to. Instead, these superheroes are rude, violent, murderous and downright nasty and it's up to The Boys to bring them down. Starring Karl Urban as the leader of The Boys, the show doesn't pull any punches when it comes to the violence either. So best watch this with more mature audiences.

FALCON AND THE WINTER SOLDIER

This show was supposed to be out this month, but alas, the COVID-19 pandemic has pushed the release date of Falcon and The Winter Soldier to late 2020. We don't have a concrete date as yet, but we should be finding out more about the show in the coming weeks. The show would have seen Bucky and Sam Wilson join forces after the events of Avengers: Endgame.

THE MANDALORIAN SEASON 2

A return to form for the failing Star Wars franchise, The Mandalorian is basically a western pulp show disguised as a sci-fi fantasy show. The show follows the adventures of the titular Mandalorian as he makes his way through the galaxy blasting droids and rescuing Baby Yoda. One of the best shows of the year, The Mandalorian is the redemption of a franchise that has been run into the ground. If you liked old school Star Wars, you'll have a ton of fun with The Mandalorian.

JURASSIC WORLD: CAMP CRETACEOUS

Who doesn't love the idea of Jurassic Park? The original film was a technological marvel for its time and has since gone on to become one of the most beloved movies ever. This time, we've got a new Netflix series that follows a group of six teenagers chosen for a once-in-a-lifetime experience at a new adventure camp on the opposite side of Isla Nublar. But when dinosaurs wreak havoc across the island, the campers are stranded and have to fight their way out using smarts and a bit of brawn. Look, this is a kids show but it does have cool dinosaurs, which is enough for us.

THE WALKING DEAD: WORLD BEYOND

Taking inspiration from the world of the Walking Dead rather than the main plot from the comics, this show follows different protagonists as they navigate a world that has been decimated by the zombie apocalypse. The show will be set far into the world of the Walking Dead with the two protagonists having only known the messed up world they were born into. A coming of age tale set in the Zombie apocalypse, if you will. Definitely worth checking out. The show will premier on October 4 and should stream on Disney+Hotstar.

INVINCIBLE

One of the few animated shows on the list, Invincible is based on the popular superhero comic of the same name. Written by Walking Dead scribe, Robert Kirkman, Invincible is not your typical superhero tale. It is violent, funny, heart-warming and most importantly endearing. We're hoping the show sticks to the tone of the comics and really knocks it out of the park. There is no release date as yet, but we should be hearing more about the show in the coming months.

FOUNDATION

Based on the critically-acclaimed Isaac Asimov series, Foundation will stream on Apple TV+. The plot of the books is just too dense to sum up into bite-sized pieces but the gist of it is essentially a bunch of rebels called the Foundation wage a thousand-year war against the Galactic Empire in hopes of saving it. The first trailer is absolutely mesmerising, and we will definitely be keeping an eye out for this. Foundation premieres sometime in 2021.

Which shows out of this list are you guys most excited to watch? Think we missed any? Don't forget to write to us at editor@digit.in and let us know!
