

Don't Worry Darling

Olivia Wilde's 1950s psychological thriller starring Florence Pugh has begun filming.
<http://digit.in/nov20-43>

Mank trailer is out now

David Fincher's Herman J Mankiewicz biopic will hit Netflix on 4 December 2020.
<http://digit.in/nov20-44>

LOCKED DOWN RADICALS

Zombie claims of the coronasceptics might give you emoji acrostics, but at least the library takeout jams can put a smize on your masked face

Aditya Madanapalle | aditya@digit.in

ZOMBIE CLAIM

Zombie claims are false notions on social media that simply refuse to die.

NOT!

Despite many arguments and scientific proofs, these keep cropping up repeatedly. These can be the flat earthers who insist that the Japanese crossed the Indian ocean, skirted around Africa, crossed the Atlantic, then skirted around South America to attack Pearl Harbour, or climate change deniers who refuse to accept that industrial activity and emissions has increased the temperature of the planet, putting all life at risk. There are some zombie claims when it comes to the coronavirus as well, including claims that there is no evidence of human to human transmission, that deaths because of other reasons have inflated the coronavirus casualties, that masks are ineffective at containing the spread of the disease, that COVID-19 is the 19th version of the disease, or just flat out denial that the world is going through a pandemic. Zombie claims certainly have a way of eating your brain.

Lockdown, vaccine and mask protestors at Trafalgar Square in London

CORONASCEPTIC

The anti-maskers are teaming up with the anti-vaxxers and the anti-lockdowners to form organisations that are becoming increasingly militant. The Swiss police are monitoring the radicalisation among the coronasceptics, people who do not believe any cross section of the scientific evidence on the pandemic, and those who support one or more of the zombie claims related to the virus. These people are cornered by the overwhelming scientific evidence, and the only way out for them is to physically start fighting. Romanian doctors are doing double duty in quelling the conspiracy theories, along with treating the patients. The number of cases in Romania saw a rise because of a spread of these conspiracies. People have just stopped following the recommended guidelines and even rules for preventing the spread of the disease. In fact, the situation has escalated to such a level that German doctors have been flown in to tackle the influx of new patients. Across Europe, there is a spike in cases as people become more complacent, leading to a second round of travel restrictions and lockdowns. In the US, the FBI thwarted a plot by 13 extremists who had hatched a plan to kidnap the Governor of Michigan, Gretchen Whitmer. They believed that the measures introduced by the state government was in violation of the constitution. All around the world, the pushback against the measures imposed by the governments as well as the science behind it is getting questioned more and more, with dedicated sites cropping