WHAT'S NEW

Official Spider-Man 3 title revealed

Marvel fans have been waiting (im)patiently for Spider-Man 3 to drop ever since the shocking ending of the second instalment. Fans have also been having some fun trying to guess the title of the next film. But Marvel finally revealed the official Spider-Man 3 title – Spider-Man: No Way Home. The confirmation comes after actors Tom Holland, Zendaya and Jacob Batalon trolled fans with a couple of fake titles including some pretty creative and weird ones such as Spider-Man: Phone Home, Spider-Man: Home Wrecker, and Spider-Man: Home Slice. Finally, all three aforementioned cast members took to Instagram to announce the official title of the film with a short video. The video has the characters disappointed over the film director supplying them with yet another fake title. As the camera follows them, it stops midway and lingers on a whiteboard that has the genuine title. The title makes sense since the last movie spoiler alert, Far From Home sees Spider-Man's identity being leaked to the world by Mysterio, played by Jake Gyllenhaal, who also accused Spider-Man of killing him. So, Peter must have to live in exile and probably cannot live freely anymore.

Disney+ unveils new show schedules

Disney+ is gearing up for an action-packed next couple of months with new TV series coming in hot to the popular streaming service. The company has announced the official premiere dates for the platform's biggest and most-awaited spring releases. On March 19, we have the second Marvel Disney+ series, The Falcon and the Winter Soldier, debuting. The following week, we will see The Mighty Ducks:

Game Changers release. On May 4, Star Wars: The Bad Batch will premier and June 11 will see Loki make his way to the streaming platform. We also have other shows coming between March and July 2021 including Big Shot, High School Musical: The Musical: The Series Season 2, Zenimation Season 2, Monsters at Work, Turner & Hooch, and others. We're particularly excited for The Bad Batch, Loki and The Falcon and The Winter Soldier that have been in the works for a while now and we hope we get them on Disney+ Hotstar around the same time as they're released in the US.
