

Rockstar launches a music label

Rockstar has teamed up with CircoLoco to launch CircoLoco Records. A series of EPs will be launched weekly. <http://digit.in/jun21-51>

Become a spy with a JoyCon

SpyAlarm, an app for the Nintendo Switch, uses the JoyCon's IR sensor to set up an "invisible trap wire". <http://digit.in/jun21-52>

NFTs for 02

Local NFT artists formed the Crypto Art Collective, and began to produce and auction works towards raising funds towards oxygen cylinders, concentrators and other life saving equipment

Aditya Madanapalle |
aditya@digit.in

↑ This is a collaborative piece by 17 NFT artists, titled "Warriors of Hope - Together, separately" which is a piece of artwork encouraging others to stay at home, maintain pandemic appropriate behavior (such as the 6 feet distance) and contribute by working towards common good.

← Vishesh Chopra contributed this piece known as "regeneration" with the message that humanity will grow stronger in the process of healing from the pandemic.

← This artwork from Ankit Kapoor depicts a medical professional as a popular video game character, escaping the clutches of the disease.

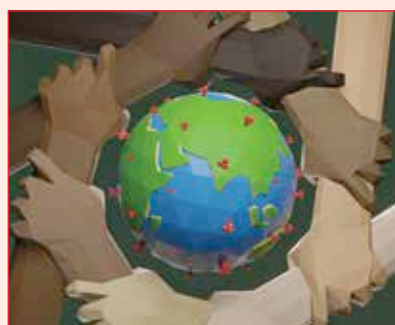

← This piece by Siraj Hassan captures the times by depicting oxygen cylinders as the rare objects of desire, the treasure hidden away beneath a temple or a crypt.

← This piece by Surja Teja is another artwork honoring doctors as lone warriors in these difficult times, pulling themselves together for the sake of others.

← This artwork by RishirajSingh Shekhawat imagines the healthcare worker as a deity. Almost all of these NFTs also came with a short couplet or inspirational message from the artists.

← This piece by Shuprobho Das shows the world with the COVID-19 virus spreading as spike proteins, and people from everywhere working together to overcome it.