

DOES THIS SECTION EVEN NEED AN INTRODUCTION? FROM COMPUTERS TO MOBILES, AND HEADPHONES TO GPUs, IT'S ALL HERE...

THIS MONTH IN TECH: This month in Tech, we learn more about two startups – Degpeg and Paperboy, we list out some useful tips and tricks for Spotify, we delve into UX Engineering as a career, and much more.

Goodbye Mi branding

Xiaomi will rebrand its premium lineup from 'Mi' to 'Xiaomi', and will now have two discrete sub-brands: 'Redmi' and 'Xiaomi'. The new branding will affect a range of devices, be it smartphones, TVs or laptops.

<https://digit.in/byemi>

WHAT'S NEW

iPhone 13 series with A15 Bionic chip launched

Just like clockwork, Apple has officially launched the iPhone 13 series in India. The iPhone 13, iPhone 13 Mini, iPhone 13 Pro and iPhone 13 Pro Max have been revealed in their new avatars packed with the latest technology Apple has to offer in 2021. The new iPhones get a new camera system and the powerful A15 Bionic chip while the Pro models take it on another level by offering upto a 120Hz refresh rate courtesy of its ProMotion display and improved low-light and macro photography. The iPhone 13 Pro and Pro Max are also the first iPhones to be offered with a whopping 1TB storage capacity to choose from and run on iOS 15 out-of-the-box.

The iPhone 13 Mini is priced starting at ₹69,900 for the base variant, the iPhone 13 starts at ₹79,900 for the 128GB model, the iPhone 13 Pro is priced starting at ₹1,19,900 for the 128GB storage version, and finally, the iPhone 13 Pro Max starts at ₹1,29,900 for the 128GB model.

<https://digit.in/iphone13>

HBO Max coming to India soon

Home Box Office (HBO) Max is an on-demand video streaming platform owned by WarnerMedia Studios & Networks. HBO Max was first launched on May 27, 2020, in the United States and Latin America. As of June 30, 2021, the platform has garnered over 67.5 million users. As per a report published on OnlyTech, HBO Max is likely to enter India very soon and the company is testing three monthly plans.

The report also claims that the company has engaged Nepa, a market research firm to conduct an online pre-launch survey. The leak reveals that HBO Max will launch three subscription plans in India namely ad-supported, mobile, and standard. Subscription plans are likely to start at ₹69 per month. HBO Max users can create five profiles per account. Mobile and Standard subscription plans are 'ad-free'. The annual subscription of the Mobile Plan is priced at ₹1,001 per year while the annual subscription of the Standard Plan is priced at ₹1,974 per year.

<https://digit.in/hbomaxindia>

Dogecoin Foundation is fighting for Dogecoin Trademark

Dogecoin Foundation has filed an official claim with the US Patent and Trademark Office. There are a dozen other applications filed at the Trademark office, who, too, are in the race to claim the exclusive rights of the Dogecoin brand.

<https://digit.in/dogeointm>

Gmail, Calendar and Docs app are all set for a makeover

Google's Material You has focussed on making aesthetic changes to all Google apps to create a more standardised look. The changes are available to all Google customers, including those who use G Suite and Google Workspace.

<https://digit.in/materialyou>

Instagram is testing its new Favourites feature

Instagram is now testing a new feature known as Favourites, which lets you see posts from specific accounts at the top of your feed. This feature should help eliminate clutter by letting you access content from your favourite creators first.

<https://digit.in/instafavs>