Whenever I am craving for help regarding something, the help always comes in the next Digit issue. For example, the December issue included Linux comparisons of those distros that I had in my mind, along with the updated Digit Config list, as I wanted to build my server this month. Also, thanks for including the 2022 calendar.

Love you guys for keeping subscribers updated and making them the Alphas in this fast growing world. Regards

—Ravisher Singh

Hi Digit Family,
I have been a proud Digit reader and since I was in 10th grade. I have always loved almost everything, including the articles, comparisons, code guides, etc., and also, one of my favourites, the Zero1 Awards.

Hey Ravisher, it's always a pleasure to be of service.

Letter of the Month

Dear Digit Team,
I have been reading Digit since January 2021 and I just loved it but there are some things that I believe can be improved. I was searching on Google for tech magazine that I can read and found Digit, I ordered it and it was worth the money. I paused reading from September to December because of my exams, but as soon as the exam ended, I ordered all the previous issues that I missed.

I am an Anime fan and I was happy when Digit started a column about anime but you discontinued it for the past 2 months (October and November), I will be glad if I can get that back.

There is a column (I don't remember the accurate term) 'THE NEXT 20 YEARS' I don't think they are even read by anyone even my friend who are subscribed to Digit says that they are worthless and they should be used wisely. You can even put the Anime content in their place.

One thing I noticed is that from the last month the Editor is not giving reply to the feedback in the mag. Previously the Editor used to reply in the mag. I know that answering everyone is not possible but at least give the reply to the letter of the month.

And the next one about making a new design for Agent001, people are saying this for months but you are doing nothing.

There is an issue with the Digit website, the one where I can buy the mag. The thing is whenever I am using a browser based on chromium, I am not able to see the images of the mag etc. But if I am using Chrome on an old device or the default browsers like the Vivo browser, I am able to see it. I don't know if it is a real issue or not.

And can you please give a gift-wrapping option for your mag?

And now some praise. I love the FastTrack and dymstify very much and the topics covered by them. Can you please make one about coding or ethical hacking that can help people, if not possible then at least one about kali Linux.

Hoping to get a reply.

Hey Raghwender, thank you for pointing out the website issue. We have fixed the same and we promise to take your feedback into consideration.
