

ALWAYS USE PROTECTION

BETTER SAFE THAN SORRY

Kids, remember to always, and we mean ALWAYS, use protection. For your beloved gadgets, of course! There are a few members in the Digit test labs, we can safely call “butterfingers”. So, seeing them drop their gadgets and watch helplessly in absolute horror while they crack or break isn’t a rarity around here. Many a year of heart-wrenching gadget deaths have hardened the folks around here but has also taught them to always protect their devices. Be it with cases, screen guards, or even the occasional gadget insurance, we take gadget safety very seriously!

With the exorbitant cost of smartphones and other electronic gadgets, it has become increasingly vital to protect your devices to lengthen their lifespan. Fortunately, there’s no dearth of protective cases and screen protectors on the market, not just for smartphones but also for other gadgets such as tablets and handheld gaming consoles. For those who are extremely careful with their devices and rarely let them slip through their fingers, a simple silicone case would also suffice. But for those who are more prone to dropping their gadgets or for those who have a more active lifestyle with a lot of time spent outdoors, you may want to invest in something more rugged. In this article, we will go over various protective equipment you can purchase for your gadgets. We’ve even got some weird and eccentric cases for those who don’t take things too seriously.

SAFEGUARD YOUR DEVICES WITH PROTECTIVE CASES

With the skyrocketing costs of smartphones, it makes sense to protect your investment with a smartphone case. Some phone manufacturers do provide a simple silicone case inside the retail box but those often aren’t too reliable. The idea is to buy a smartphone case that has ridges around all the corners of the screen so that even if your phone falls down flat on the screen, the ridges will absorb most of the impact, saving your screen in the process. One of the most reliable brands of smartphone cases is Spigen. You can get good quality, rugged cases from this company for phones from several brands such as Apple, Samsung, Google, Oppo, and Xiaomi. The cases are available on the company’s website, but you’ll have to pay exorbitant shipping rates. Fortunately, many of their cases are also available on amazon.in and they’re just a single search away. You can even find Spigen cases for Nintendo Switch and smartwatches from Apple and Samsung.

However, Spigen doesn’t have smartphone cases for all brands, and all models within that brand. So, if you don’t find your model, don’t fret. There are other companies you can check out to find a good-quality case for your phone. These brands include Ringke, Kapaver, Nillkin, Urban Armor Gear, Otterbox, Pelican, G-Form and Rhinoshield. Some of these brands even have protective cases for accessories such as the Apple Watch and AirPods.

In case you’re looking for heavy duty, military-grade smartphone cases, you can find those within the brands we mentioned above as well. Otterbox especially has some really sturdy looking cases that provide military-grade protection with multi-layering technology. UAG or Urban Armor Gear, we mentioned before, also has sturdy cases for Apple and Samsung devices including the phones and tablets. The cases from UAG meet military drop-test standards [MIL STD 810G 516.6] providing increased shock protection. So, when you’re looking for military-grade cases, look for its MIL-STD certification
