In the tough times that are coming, it will be more important than ever to save money. One of the best ways to save money is to monitor or keep track of your expenses. Being able to monitor your expenses makes it a lot easier for you to know your limits and control your expenses accordingly.

MONEY SAVING RULES TO FOLLOW

There are certain rules one should follow when it comes to saving money.

1. Create a budget for yourself, be it weekly or monthly. Strictly adhere to this budget that you've set for yourself no matter what. Make room for things like unexpected emergencies.

2. Establish a goal for yourself. How much money do you want to save up, in how much time, and work towards that.
3. Finally, like we just mentioned, track and monitor your expenses; to ensure that you're adhering to the budget you set.

Budgeting is very important if you are to properly manage and save your money. Thankfully, the days of needing to budget with pen and paper, or even on an MS Excel or Google sheet are behind us. There are plenty of money management apps available, both free and paid, which do a great job of helping you manage your money and personal finances.

These apps will cover almost all your bases when it comes to tracking your finances, plus they'll take it one step further by advising you on where you could possibly save more by reducing expenditure.

PERSONAL FINANCE AND BUDGETING APPS

There are a plethora of money tracking and management apps on both Google Play and the Apple App Store. Additionally, since a lot of these work for Indian users, they integrate with digital payment wallets for accurate data tracking, or can even read your SMSs.

1. Wallet

Wallet is a personal finance management app that comes with all the features you need to budget and manage your finances.

One of its biggest draws is the ease of organisation. Wallet has a feature called Automatic Rules and Labels. With this feature, you can create custom expense and income tracking rules. You can create custom categories and assign labels as you see fit, to make your money tracking experience as organised as possible.

Additionally, through the app you can set up planned payments, these could be bills, EMIs etc and create budgets for yourself. You can include all your planned transactions to see exactly how much money you spend each month. The app will provide you with a graph showing you how much you're saving. Or overspending.
