CS:GO skins worth $2m+ hacked

Over $2,000,000 worth of CS:GO skins have been hacked and stolen, with items getting moved and sold even as the post was first made on Twitter. At a valuation of $2m+, this is the most expensive inventory of all-time, including legendary skins from CS:GO history; seven souvenir dragon lores, no-star karambit, #1 blue gems and more.

UP AND COMING

F1 2022

With new regulation changes, the new Formula 1 game is expected to be quite different from last year's release and will include a host of new features.

Release date - July 1

Loopmancer

Loopmancer is an upcoming 3D platformer roguelite in a Cyberpunk setting. The Demo's free to play on Steam, and it looks pretty darn good.

Release date - July 13

Stray

Annapurna Interactive's latest game, Stray, is all set to put us in the shoes (or should we say paws?) of a stray cat in a world devoid of humans.

Release date - July 19

Erno Rubik created the Rubik's Cube by accident. It took him an entire month to solve his cube for the first time!
